

FANTASTIC VULTURE

The Area

The Vulture area is the north-western part of the region Basilicata (also called Lucania), The name of the area is given by the most prominent landmark Mount Vulture (1326 m on s/l), an inactive Volcano. The fertile magma soil allows the cultivation of excellent grapes and olives and is rich in mineral waters. The most famous DOC wine of Basilicata is the Aglianico del Vulture. Among the sights to visit are the two lakes of Monticchio within the Volcano and the two castles of Frederick II of Swabia at Castel Lagopesole and Melfi. The reserve of "Lago Piccolo di Monticchio" covers 187 hectare (462 acres) and lies in the caldera of old Mount Vulture. Like the big lake also the small Monticchio lake covers a vent of today's inactive Volcano. But the small lake is fed by several undersea springs of mineral water and its bottom slopes fast and steeply to a depth of 38 meters.

Spotted by old farmhouses or little suburb of them, the Vulture area is where you can feel the real Southern Italy country life style. The territory chosen by kings and imperators of the past history of the region will host you in a unreal atmosphere.

The Project

The possibilities of investment are many. Old town and green hills on which find your favourite property, that one that could feel you a sense of freedom from the chaos of big cities and the sense of relax for your vacation. The continue search of properties on the entire territory could permit to the investors to totalize a good amount of investments. To that it needs to add the professional work of all the figures involved in the three projects proposed or only in this one. Every week on the page of Porta d'Oriente web-site which is reserved to the "Properties for Sale" will be added new properties with a lot of pictures of the house, a good description of it and the restoring project studied by the architect of the team on the property selected. In other section of the same web-site you should find accommodation for the viewing trip (a lot of time the other properties sold and restored are used to host the potential buyer), tourism and rental services list and a special section through which a lot of important Italian and international tour operator start to collaborate with the agency to propose to a large market the accommodation present on the web-site. So, Porta d'Oriente is an agency that has the possibility of help you in find your favourite and good investment in the real estate sector, give the input to transform your investment in a earning investment thank to its marketing platform, and treat your property during the first step to the last one.

The Formula

The real formula to obtain the best result come out directly from the entrance in the project of different professional figures as a registered real estate agent, Emma Basile from Porta d'Oriente, an architect and a company of workers, everyone decided to grow up in their work and ready to satisfy the different request of a big potential market of investors. Following the calendar for the viewing trip, studied by Porta d'Oriente, you will have the chance to discover a very pleasant territory, enjoy typical products, and find your little home, villa or farmhouse for your Italian vacation without forget that is an investment made in the right time in a undiscovered region saw by the local governments as a future strong point for Southern Italy tourism development.
